

Message for the Superwoman

Procrastination, worry and stress only exhaust and rob you of your blessings and the energy you need to fulfill your divine destiny. Trust me and cast all your cares on me. I have seen how you keep going and giving. I have seen you endure some tough times and achieve some goals. Take care of yourself. This is your season to let your light shine. Polish up your talents and gifts. Take off your superwoman cape. Delegate some tasks. It's OK to say "no" without feeling guilty. Do not feel totally, personally, irrevocably responsible for everything...that's MY job.

♥ Love, God
